HELPFUL WORDS

From a Norway Citizen
Is your back lame and painful?
Does it ache especially after exertion?
Is there a soreness in the kidney region?

These symptoms suggest weak kidneys.
If so there is danger in delay.
Weak kidneys get weaker fast.
Give your trouble prompt attention.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Your neighbors use and recommend them. Ask your neighbor?
Read this Norway testimony.
Mrs. A. L. Sanborn, Beal St., Norway, says: "I am perfectly satisfied Doan's Kidney Pills are a dependable medicine to relieve ailments resulting from dis-ordered kidneys. I used them a few years ago and gave them a thorough trial. Since then I have had no return of kidney complaint and on that account
I place a great deal of confidence in Doan's."

over grange, Saturday, Oct. 25.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a powerful remedy, it removes the cause and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Doses of Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure.

High School Orchestra and Notes
The students of the high school have formed an orchestra and held their first concert in the Opera House Wednesday evening. George Forbes will direct them.

At the high school assembly, Friday, Bishop Kinsman spoke to the pupils. He told of the interesting peoples of Africa and of their customs. He showed many fine pictures and read closed Wednesday
The schools in town closed Wednesday and the teachers attended the convention in Portland.

All plans are now made for Woodstock's greatest celebration, Nov. 1. The stock have made arrangements to feed grange have made arrangements to feed all who may wish to secure meals. A reception committee will be in the new Chamber of Commerce rooms all day Monday and Tuesday. Every one is cordially invited to make their headquarters there.

A local post of the American Legion is now assured. The ex-servicemen met Monday night and elected a few temporary officers. Several names have been suggested but the one will most likely be adopted in the Jackson-Silver Post in honor of Harold Jackson and John Silver, two local boys to give up their lives in the World War.

Electric Lights Wanted
Some seventy citizens have agreed to wire their houses and business places for electric lights providing the Board of Trade can make satisfactory terms with the Rumford Power and Light Co. A special town meeting voted to light the village streets and the town's buildings, including the library, town hall and high school house, providing it could be done within the expense of a certain sum.

At the above special meeting it was voted to accept acting upon Art. 4 of the warrant, the gift of land from James M. Day. This gift of land includes a number of feet in extension of the ground to be used for field sports adjoining the present high school premises.

Soldiers' Welcome
The plans for celebrating the home coming of Woodstock's soldiers, appointed for Saturday, November 1st, have been completed. The citizens and soldiers of Greenwood and Milton Plantation will join Woodstock in the event. The parade will be made up at the town hall at 1:30 P. M., led by the Rumford Band, Army trunk and equipments from Fort McKinley, Allied War soldiers and Civil War veterans. Speaking at 2 o'clock by prominent citizens of the town and county.
Band concert at 4 p. m. Soldiers' banquet at 6 o'clock. Reception of soldiers at Fraternal Lodge rooms at 7 o'clock.
Soldiers' benefit ball in the opera house at 8 o'clock. Music by Dexter's Orchestra of Rumford. The Grange dining hall will be open through the day and will furnish the banquet for the soldiers and meals for all who desire.

Annual Meeting

and Rachel returned last week from a trip to the White Mountains and Somersworth, Rochester and Dover, N. H.

SOUTH ALBANY
Mr. and Mrs. Lucien McAllister and two children of West Bethel visited his brother, Will McAllister recently. Mr. and Mrs. McAllister took his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Will McAllister to Turner to visit their children, Hazel McAllister and Mrs. Emma Decester, Sunday, Oct. 19. They returned the same day.

Helen and Richard Holt visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Holden Savin at North Waterford, Saturday and Sunday,
Oct. 18 and 19.

Mrs. Lenora Abbott and Mrs. Emma Savin of North Waterford visited at Merritt Sawin's.

Walter Canwell was the lucky one, who secured a nice fat doe, Mr. Canwell was digging potatoes and saw the deer at the other end of the potatoes. His nearest neighbor was from him and near deer stood and watched him but when he picked up the gun he started and ran.
A well-arrived shot hit her in the neck and stopped her at once.

Merritt Sawin saw a deer in his pasture one morning as he was driving out his cows.

Herman Holt has been picking C. W.
York's apples.

Mrs. York has been spending some days at Rocky Ridge camp with her daughters, Mrs. Jackson.

David McAllister Jr. has finished work for Harry Brown and is at home.

Cut the Coal Bill

Coal will probably be high and scarce this winter. So during the Fall, before heavy winter sets in, use a Perfection Oil Heater instead of the furnace.

The Perfection is as portable as a lamp. It creates the heat right on the spot—at the very place it's needed. It chases chills and warms cold corners.

No soot, ashes or dust—pans with the Perfection Heater. Convenient, safe, odorless, economical—burns 10 hours on a gallon of kerosene. Easily filled and re-wicked. 3,000,000 now in use.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-four years ago this week.

S. C. Foster, a barber from Lewiston has taken over the barber shop in the Robert Noyes Block, recently purchased of "Shorty" Cook. He will move his family here soon. "Shorty" remains as assistant to Mr. Foster.

Mel W. Sampson has sold his tonorial business to Charles W. Littlewood alias "Bush." Charles has been here three years in the shop recently taken over.

At the close of the rifle practice season of the Maine National Guard, Oct. 31, Company D. qualified 54 men (largest number in the Company's history.)

They were divided as follows: 3 sharpshooters, 2 first-class marksmen, 39 second class and 10 third-class. The men were coached by Capt. Moses P. Stiles, Sergeant Frank T. Bartlett and Lieut. B. P. Adkins.

C. N. Tubbs with a crew of men began Monday grading for the spur track to the shoe factories. About 600 feet of iron will be laid. The Railroad Commissioners were here viewing the route.

The Oxford Democrat has broken up housekeeping at Camp Hill and been transferred to the new home in Billings block, South Paris village.

Ralph Haskell, 16 years, son of Wm. Haskell of Harrison recently shot him self while hunting in company with Fred Pitts. A thumb was blown off the hand and a frightful wound made in his side. Chances for recovery are slight.

Early Railroad History
C. E. Caswell of the Warren (N. H.) News has issued a history of the early days of the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad. It was first published in the News and then put into book form of 148 standard sized pages. It sells for $1. and is well worth the price. If any of our readers are interested send the money immediately to C. E. Caswell, Warren, N. H. and secure a copy as the edition is limited and will soon be exhausted.

Cost of Newspaper Paper Increasing
Bro. Evans of the Piscataquis Observer says: "In 1915 he paid $58.30 for 100 copies of newspaper and the freight on it for $5.20. The same amount now costs $118.83 and the freight bill is $8.25. Other paper stock has advanced in about the same proportion."

Can see no way out of it except to increase rates or go into insolvency or perhaps both. The Advertiser is now being sold at the same price it was then, also its advertising space. I've been hoping there would be a reduction, but if it does not soon come, subscription and advertising rates must be increased. There is no other way in sight.

Man Satisfied
"Thanks for a copy of your paper also card giving rates for ads."

"My wants at present are supplied as my houses in Florida are both rented for the coming winter. I find it pays to advertise."—Writer, H. H. Porter.

PORTER

Pleasantly Entertained

The Ladies Aid Society of Kezar Falls were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Quint, Oct. 21. A real old-fashioned dinner was served by the host and hostess, the kind of dinners we see so seldom since the H. C. of L. became known.

As most of the guests came from some distance by autos, their appetites were well sharpened and there were no slackers at the dinner table.

Mrs. Quint has a fine collection of relics that were shown the guests some of the relics dated back to Revolutionary times. Mr. and Mrs. Quint's home is a cozy little bungalow situated at the foot of Fox Mountain, where a fine view may be seen of Kezar Falls village and surrounding hills.

The guests were Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Kewley, Mrs. Olive Stacy, Mrs. Mary Page, Mrs. Della Champion, Mrs. Letitia Garland, Mrs. A. J. Cross, Mrs. Evelyn Bates, Mrs. Mable Black, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Ellen Fox, Florence Woodis, Mrs. Pauline Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Quint.

Mrs. Roberts and her granddaughter, Florence Woodis of South Windham, have been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Quint.

Mrs. Mabel Black entertained the Ladies Reading Club on Monday, Oct. 20. Ralph Tucker is stopping with uncle, Curtis Chapman for the present.

RUMFORD POINT
F. G. Barnes and wife were week end guests of Charles Barnes at Bethel.

R. E. Knight and sister motored to Lewiston, Thursday.

Mrs. Lottie Caldwell is on the sick list. Ivan Stowe and brothers are on a hunting trip back of Howard Pond.

Jed Martin is making one hundred barrels of cider a day.

WEST POLAND

Tobias L. Eastman vs. Eastman & Son

To the Supreme Judicial Court: Tobias L. Eastman, of Fryeburg, in the County of Oxford and State of Maine, complains against Eastman & Son, a corporation, created and existing under the laws of said State of Maine, and having its place of business and principal office in said County of Fryeburg, in said State of Maine, and says:

1. That the plaintiff is President of said Eastman & Son.

2. That at a meeting of the stockholders of said corporation, legally called therefor and held on the twenty-sixth day of July, A. D. 1919, the said stockholders voted to dissolve said corporation, and to convert the assets of said corporation, and the proceeds thereof, into money by sale, apply the proceeds to the payment of the debts of said corporation, and to the final settlement of all its affairs.

3. That the plaintiff may have such other and further relief as the need of the case may require.

4. That such notice of this bill may be given to the defendant corporation, as the court may see fit to issue.

Dated at Fryeburg aforesaid, this fifth day of August, A. D. 1919.

T. L. EASTMAN, State of Maine, Plaintiff.

Then personally appeared Tobias L. Eastman, and made oath that he has read the above bill, and knows the contents thereof, that the same is true to his own knowledge, except the matters stated to be on information and belief, and that, as to these matters, he believes them to be true.

Common-Sense for Corns, "Gets-It"

The Great Painless Corn Loosener.

Simple as A. B. C. Never Fails. If you have ever tried to get rid of a corn by bundling up your toes with bandages, or by using salve that made your toes red and almost

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw things." After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling. "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

What do you call hill climbing ability?

This?

Plenty of speed at the bottom and all out of breath at the top?

Or this?

THE kind of hill climbing ability that gives you reserve enough to sail smoothly up the whole slope?

That's what we call hill climbing ability. That's what you get when you equip your car with an Autometric Carburetor made by The Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company.

And in addition you get greater flexibility of control, up to 30% more mileage from your gasoline, and at least 20% less gear shifting, and engine vibration is reduced to a minimum.

Because The Autometric Carburetor provides the correct mixture for all speeds for any car.

Let us arrange to have your own garage man put an Autometric on your car on approval. Then you will know what real hill climbing ability is.

Box Supper
An entertainment and box supper was held at the Black Mt. schoolhouse last week. The children spoke and sang some very nice pieces. They also had a very nice collection of vegetables from their war garden; also some canned fruits. The audience was greatly pleased when Clarence Jones came forward to recite his piece as he is a nice speaker. Wynne Tower was on hand with her neighborhood jokes as usual, which were greatly enjoyed by all. After the entertainment came to a close, Calvin Briggs, the auctioneer, came forward to auction off the boxes which he did in a pleasing manner. There was candy and coffee for sale. The receipts of the evening were $18.00 after paying three dollars for prizes awarded the children for the best vegetables and canned fruits.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN LOSSES ANNUALLY BY THE WEATHER

Your house has doubled in value in the past five years. A house which cost $1,500 in 1910 to build will cost $3,000 today. Why not protect it? Some people are saying, "We shall not paint along a paint stock is high." It requires good wheat land to raise wheat and as long as wheat sells for $2.30 per bushel, it will not be very cheap. White Lead today is high and will go higher and yet if you let the water in, decay comes and before you can paint you must get the carpenters and repair. Let your house go inside, but keep your roof tight and walk all covered with Sherwin-Williams best paint products. Sold at

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

The famous "Blasphemy Case" closed Friday noon and Michael X. Mockus of Chicago, the respondent, was found guilty by a jury who brought in a verdict after deliberating less than forty-five minutes. An appeal was made on exceptions. A sentence of not less than one year and not more than two years in state prison was imposed by Justice John A. Morrill. This action was the first to be brought in the state under a statute unfamiliar to most people, which reads as follows:

"Whoever blasphemes the holy name of God by cursing, or contumeliously reproaching God, His creation, government, or final judgment of the world, Jesus Christ, the Holy Ghost or the Holy Scriptures as contained in the canonical books of the Old or New Testament, or by exposing them to contempt and ridicule, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by fine not exceeding two hundred dollars."

A series of lectures in St. Rocco Hall, Rumford, under the auspices of the Lithuanian Liberal Society and attended by a large number of the Lithuanian population gave Mockus an opportunity to express his ultra liberal views on religion and state craft according to the indictment. It is alleged by the state the respondent uttered words to the effect that all religions are a deception of the people; that religion, capitalistic and government are "all damned humbugs, liars and thieves" that they are a trinity of a black army, deceiving the people. It is alleged that Mockus referred to the Holy Trinity as "scoundrels" and to the Bible as "monkey business," besides other utterances of a similar character.

Stereopticon pictures of the Virgin Mary, the Holy Trinity, and Christ on the Cross were shown and it is alleged blasphemous remarks regarding Christ's parentage were made. Hon. P. A. Morey for the defense claimed the lecturer had been misquoted and his words misconstrued. His utterances were criticisms of practices of the church and priests in another country, and not in any sense a ridicule of sacred things.

Witnesses for the defense testified that the trinity opposing the people, called the black army by Mockus, was made up, not as testified to by the states' witnesses of "priests, capitalists and government" but as "priests, cars and the clergy," all of them using the latter form of expression. Some of them said that Mockus compared the government of America with other governments, telling the people that they should be thankful all they live here, and that in the old country he would not have been allowed to say anything. A different rendering of the words of Mockus in several of the utterances charged was given by the witnesses for the defense, and they changed their significance. Mockus was not put on the stand.

Other Legal Matters
Cecil O. Bartlett of Hartford, who was indicted for burglary and assault and battery, got off with a fine. The county attorney did not press so much of the indictment as charged breaking and entering, and a plea of guilty to assault and battery was entered. A sentence continued until the February term of court, with a promise of a furthering at that time if his conduct was correct, and he was allowed to go.

Arthur Watson of Rumford, indicted for assault with intent to commit rape, was ordered committed to the Augusta State Hospital for observation as to his sanity, the superintendent to report at the February term of court as to whether further detention for observation is necessary.

The case of State vs. Usga Lozis, for assault, appealed from the Rumford Municipal Court was not pressed.

Joseph Mundi and Mariantonio Fusto, both of Rumford, indicted for illegal cohabitation, were not brought to court, having married since the proceedings were begun. The case was postponed to the next term of court.

There were hearings in several divorce cases Saturday, one of them being the libel of Mary E. Curran vs. Albert J. Curran. The Currans were the couple concerned in the alienation case tried early in the term with Jesse Tucker of Rumford the defendant. Geo. A. Hutchins appeared for Mrs. Curran with McGillicuddy & Morey for Curran, on the matter of the custody of the minor children. It is understood that the divorce will be granted, on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment, but no decree for custody of the children will be made at present. They will be allowed to establish themselves in homes, as they have opportunity.

A part of Monday was devoted to taking up the evidence in the case of American Realty Co. vs. C. V. Richards, which is to be reported to the law court.

William W. Jacobs, who had been at liberty on $1500 bail since his conviction for manslaughter, was sentenced Monday. A fine of $500 was imposed. Mr. Jacobs paid and was discharged.

Badly Shaken Up

Everett McAllister met with what came near being a fatal accident last Friday. He was working in the cider mill near some shafting when his clothing caught in the machinery, tearing his coat, vest and shirt into shreds. His fortunate circumstance saved his being wound up in the machinery. He escaped with only a wrenched shoulder, several severe bruises and a general shaking up.

Curtis Kimball was at home for the week end. He goes and comes from school at Fryeburg with Roger Brown.

Mrs. N. R. Andrews and Mrs. Elmer Davis went to Bridgton shopping, Saturday. Clinton Andrews took them in an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fox of Brockton, Mass., and Mrs. Caroline Fox and Madeleine Wescott of West Lovell were guests at John Kimball's, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor and three daughters of Heald's Lake visited Mrs. Jane Hatch and Mrs. Reine Kimball, Friday.

Amos McKean has been hauling apples to Fryeburg to the corn shop where they are being canned.

Mrs. Fred Warren, who has had an abscess on her face, is much better.

Doctors McAllister, who is working in Albany, called on his father, Willis McAllister.

Mrs. Jane Hatch visited Mrs. Abbie McKean, Saturday.

Perley McKean is shingling his house and will make other repairs.

Mrs. Susie Wilson was at home for a short stay last week.

Mrs. Lottie Palmer is teaching the Heald Lake school; she boards at home and goes to her work with her car.

Archie Hill, Bert Mason and Lester Fogg have been picking apples on the Robert Eastman place at Center Lovell the past week.

Elmer Davis has hauled apples to North Fryeburg for W. A. Smith. A large amount of apples from this locality have gone to the corn shop to be canned.

BIOGRAPHY OF ARTEMUS WARD

Another book has been put together by Don Seitz and published by Harper & Brothers of New York. It tells of Artemus Ward and many others. It was a life collection of funny things said and done by the great humorist of half a century ago.

The story is interestingly told, well printed and illustrated and sells for $2.00 net.

Much in the book is of local interest as Artemus Ward (Charles Farrar Browne) was born in Waterford, Me., and worked in the Norway Advertiser Office when his brother, Cyrus W. Brown, was owner and editor. Many of his written sayings yet linger, such as: "Miraculous, labor saving device and extensive additions—Since our last paper a hole has been bored in the sink and a pail put under it. What will the hellhounds over the way think of this improvement?" The hellhounds refers to a rival newspaper printed in an adjoining town which was continually boasting of the improvements being added to their shop.

Artemus as a boy worked in Lancaster, N. H., Norway and Skowhegan, Me., and then drifted West and struck fame on Cleveland Plain, Jan. 30, 1858. He died March 6, 1887 in Southampton, England and is buried in the family lot at South Waterford, Me.

Mr. Seitz's book of 338 pages is a complete biography of his life containing many things heretofore unprinted.

Sam Isaacson has received a letter from his wife in Rudskovitz, state of Vinol, Russia. This is the first message direct from her since Nov. 1916 when he deserted the Russian army and made his way across Siberia into China and Japan to Hawaii, then to San Francisco. The letter was posted on Aug. 5 and reached Norway Oct. 21. Mrs. Isaacson and two children passed through a varied experience during the war. The Germans occupied the town then evacuated in favor of the Bolsheviks with their reign of terror, until the Poles drove them out. Famine and sickness carried away many, but now food is plentiful and abundant crops are being harvested. Mr. Isaacson is planning to have his family come to Norway when conditions for traveling in Russia become more stable.

Mrs. Clifford Frost has returned from the C. M. G. Hospital at Lewiston where she was recently operated on for appendicitis and is making a good recovery.

Mrs. Charlotte R. Pratt

Mrs. Charlotte R. Pratt, widow of the late William S. Pratt, passed away Monday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at her home on Fair street. Mrs. Pratt had been in failing health for some time, and for the past months had been confined to her bed, the greater part of the time. Since last June Mrs. Pratt had been of Portland had been with her, giving her every care, and attending to the household duties.

Mrs. Pratt was born in Yarmouth, March 8, 1842, and belonged to one of the oldest families of that town. Her parents were Dr. Lewis and Mary A. (Small), Whitney. Her father was one of the well-known physicians of his day, and her mother was a direct descendant of President John Quincy Adams, and the last living relative. As a child Mrs. Pratt was delicate, and her early education was acquired under the instruction of private tutors.

Later she attended Yarmouth Academy, and the Isabella G. Prince Boarding School, in Portland, Me.

On November 28, 1868, she was united in marriage with William S. Pratt, and for some years they resided in Auburn where he was engaged in the grain business. Later they came to Norway, and Mrs. Pratt began the Pine Bakery, which he operated for three years when he returned to Auburn for a short time, and went to Augusta for a few years.

The family returned to Norway in 1889 for their permanent residence. Mrs. Pratt died Oct. 5, 1902 while attending Sunday-services at the Baptist Church, where she was one of the deacons. Four sons were born to them, three of whom died in infancy, and the fourth, Fred S., lived to young manhood, and died from the effects of an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Pratt was a member of the Baptist church, and for years was clerk of the parish, and was an indefatigable worker in the church. She was a member of the Barton Reading Club. Her life for many years was one of service, for her home and her church during the declining years of her mother's life, she cared for her as only a daughter can, making many sacrifices for what she considered her duty as she was the last of a family of four children.

Her grandfather, Whitney, was the youngest commanding officer who fought in the battle of Bunker Hill, and when he and his fellow officers were paid off, they had their first money made into something they could keep, and Mr. Whitney's purses were six solid silver tea spoons. These were among Mrs. Pratt's most treasured possessions and she never tired of telling their history.

She was possessed with a fund of ready wit, and during all her hardships and sickness she was ever cheerful and un-complaining. After the death of her husband and son, she was left singularly alone, her only blood relative being one niece, Mrs. Maude Mossman of Portland, who was ill at the time of her death and unable to come to the services.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the home on Fair street, attended by Rev. G. H. Newton of South Paris. There were many floral tokens, that bore silent testimony to love and esteem. Several relatives of Mr. Pratt were in attendance, among them Mrs.
George Bird of Yarmouth, Alice Pratt of Portland, Jennie Pratt and Mrs. Thornton of Auburn, and Mrs. Harry Saunders, a close friend from Portland.

The body was taken to Yarmouth Thursday for burial in the family lot, Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Knight escorting the remains to their last resting place.

There Is a Delco-Light Man Near You

No matter where you live, there is a Delco-Light man within easy reach of you.

This means much more to you than mere convenience in the purchase of a Delco-Light plant.

These men are trained men—they KNOW electricity as applied to farm use. They can advise you as to the size of plant you should have.

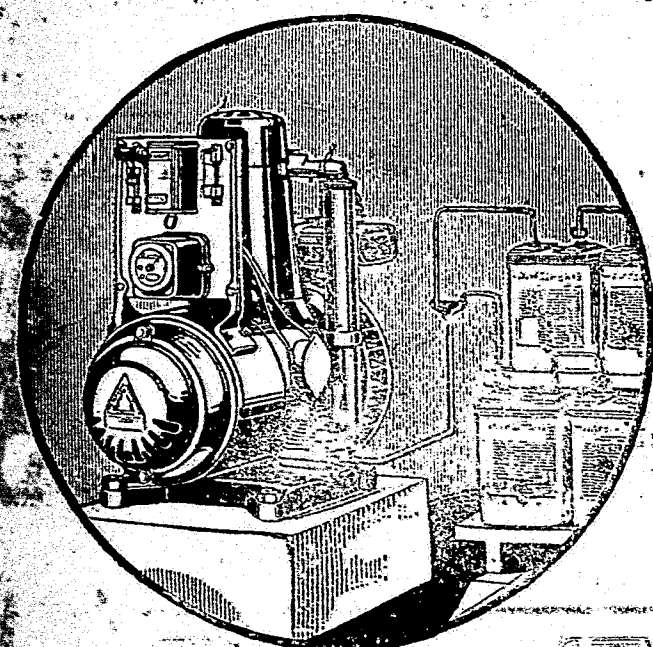

They can see that your house and barn are properly wired—

They can superintend the installation of the plant so that it will give you the most efficient and economical service.

They can give you intelligent advice as to the purchase and use of water system, washing machine, churn, separator, milking machine and other appliances that you can operate with the electricity furnished by Delco-Light.

And—after the plant is installed they are always near-by to advise with you and see that you get one hundred per cent satisfaction out of its operation—

Delco-Light is lightening labor, bettering living conditions and actually paying for itself in time and labor saved in more than 75,000 farm homes.

Literary Union Meeting

A pleasant social affair was the fall meeting of the Women's Literary Union of Oxford County, held at Grange Hall, South Paris, Thursday afternoon, the Seneca Club being the hostess of the occasion. There were about forty ladies present, from Paris, Norway, Dixfield and Rumford Center.

Rugs, plants, and other furnishings and decorations gave the hall an attractive appearance.

Mr. Celia H. Sturtevant of Dixfield, the president of the Union, presided at the session.

The entertainment program included a piano duet, "Golden Youth," played by Nellie Jackson and Mrs. Agnes L. Morton; a trio, "Summer's Goodbye," sung by Ruth Graves, Mrs. Edith Wheeler and Mrs. Agnes Perkins; vocal solo, "The Soul of You," by Mrs. L. C. Smiley; two readings by Mrs. H. L. Bartlett of Norway; and several solos by Mrs. Celia Sturtevant.

"Wind Song," "Where My Caravan is Resting" and "An Old Fashioned Town."

At the business session it was decided that any woman should be eligible to membership, whether a club member or not, and the dues were fixed at a nominal sum.

Tea was served by Mrs. L. L. Mason assisted by Mrs. Walter L. Gray, Mrs. Alton C. Wheeler and Eva Walker.

Beryl Silver and Lillian Judkins spent the week-end at their homes. Both are attending Shaw's Business College at Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving O. Barrows entertained six tables at rook Thursday evening. The party met at a certain point according to directions and followed a route which led in a circuitous way over fields and through woods to another central point. Here the ways divided into many but all led to the Barrows home, where a jolly evening was spent. Refreshments were served after the playing was finished.

Arthur Whitman of Woodstock was assigned before Trial Justice Albert D. Park Saturday, charged with the larceny of nineteen head of cattle on the 28th of September. The cattle were young stock, the property of Ned Carter of Bethel and running in his pasture in Woodstock. It was alleged a portion of them were sold and the other killed and most of the carcasses disposed of. Whitman was furnished by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitman, and his grandmother, and he was released.

HAVE YOU SCROFULA?

Now Said to Be as Often Acquired as Inherited.

It is generally and chiefly indicated by eruptions and sores, but in many cases it enlarges the glands of the neck, affects the internal organs, especially the lungs, and if neglected may develop into consumption.

It causes many troubles, and is aggravated by impure air, unwholesome food, bad water, too much heat or cold, and want of proper exercise.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the medicine that has been used with so much satisfaction by three generations, is wonderfully successful in the treatment of scrofula. Give it a trial.

If a cathartic or laxative is needed, take Hood's Pills,—there is nothing better for biliousness or constipation.

WEST LOVELL

After the business meeting the hostess assisted by Emma Swan, served lunch which was followed by a social hour including several instrumental duets by Dorothy and Kenneth Goodwin, which added much to the usual pleasant meetings.

Mrs. Floa K. Stearns and daughter, Mrs. Winifred Snowman of Portland, spent the week end at Mrs. Stearns' rooms, returning to Portland, Sunday.

Mrs. W. D. Mills of West Bethel was in town on business, Thursday and also visited her cousin, Mrs. A. E. K. Grover.

Georgia Walker is a victim of the prevailing cold epidemic.

* Mrs. G. H. Buswell spent Friday and Saturday in Portland; her daughter, Marjorie Buswell, came home with her.

Mrs. Ella Elliott of North Waterford was a recent guest of her friends, Mrs. Lizzie Manning and Mrs. Fonti Brown, who formerly lived at North Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Middlebrook of Portland were in town, Saturday.

Albert G. Hadley new ran into three deer Sunday, while riding a bicycle across the Oxford Plains. The animals crossed the road less than a road ahead of the wheel and ran through an open field before reaching shelter in the woods. It was a beauty shot, but as a usual occurrence, when this rare chance comes, he had no firearms.

Arthur B. Cobb, who has been head clerk at the Ernest B. Jackson market, closes his engagement there Saturday night. He has been in this store about a year and a half. Next week he commences as a custom butcher on his own account.

Catherine Longley brought to this office on Oct. 23 a dandelion blossom picked right here on Whitman street. She attends the fifth grade and is a natural flower hunter and successful collector. Since entering school, she has finished each spring term with the largest list of flowers for that grade.

Jack the umbrella mender, was in town over Sunday and plied his trade through the village Monday. Jack first entered Norway forty-five years ago and was an annual visitor until some twenty years since. He came here last winter after a long journey to the States, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma. A desire seized him to visit New England and look up old friends, so he is back once more on his job as umbrella surgeon. Jack has been some traveler, having roved over this land since he was fifteen, that time being fifty years ago.

Junior Community Chautauqua Flourishing

The Juniors of the Norway branch number some fifty members. For convenience their play leader, Daisy Chase, has made two divisions and the young people are making the best of their monthly gatherings with everybody filled with enthusiasm.

The younger members were entertained Friday evening at the home of Muriel Sloan. Games were played, refreshments served and the evening proved enjoyable to all. At the business meeting officers were chosen as follows:

Pres.—Philip Greenleaf.
Vice Pres.—Marjorie Cushman.
Treas.—Ellen Finch.
Sec.—June Smith.

Chairman Entertainment Com.—Henry Favor

The gathering in the high school gym Saturday evening was for the older members and they had a rattling good time during the games which provided sport in larger quantity. Refreshments were served. Officers were elected as follows:

Pres.—Alice Lewis.
Vice Pres.—Glenn Andrews.
Treas.—Elizabeth Hall.
Sec.—June Smith.

Chairman Entertainment Com.—Zilpha Bicknell

Great sport is planned for both divisions this winter. Hikes, snowshoeing and other outdoor exercise will be on the program. This organization was made permanent during the last chautauqua and has come to stay.

OTISFIELD GORE

Grange Party

Frederick Littlefield Grafe opened in regular form Saturday, Oct. 25, with Worth Master, Lawrence Rowe in the chair. The officers were all present. Hallows' was observed with appropriate decorations and after the routine business the following program was presented by Worthy Lecturer, Lillian Fox. Roll Call answered with questions and ghost stories.

Song—Myra Gammon and Gertrude Witham Reading—Sister Ruth Brett

Refreshments of pie, doughnuts, apples and coffee were served by the following committee: Bessie R. Durell, Ida Wilkie and Ruth Brett.

Games and stunts were enjoyed by all until a late hour.

J. William Whitman spent the week end at his home on the Gore.

Catherine Littlefield of East Stoneham was a recent guest of her friends, Osman Hill and family.

Osman Hill and family of Norway visited at The Maples, Sunday.

Ralph Merrill finished picking his apples last week. Those who worked were Isaac Fox, Lawrence Rowe, Clarence Adams, J. H. Edwards, and Howard Buck. W. A. Brett has also finished picking his apples.

William Brackett is helping Walter Whitman build his barn.

Are Here Told the Best Remedy for Their Troubles.

Freemont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition. It was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. G. GORDON, 925 Napoleon St., Freemont, Ohio.

North Haven, Conn.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed when passing through change of life. There is nothing like it to overcome the trying symptoms."—Mrs. FLORENCE ISLELLA, Box 197, North Haven, Conn.

A Visit to the Post of Stow

On a beautiful day in October when red leaves were falling and the brown road stretched ahead over hills and hollows lying undisturbed in drowsy silence across sturdy little bridges a Pennsylvania party accompanied by Rev. L. W. and Mrs. Souther, Mrs. Lucy Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bradley visited the famous post of these parts, Joseph Cushman Howard.

This beautiful place called Maple Grove Cottage rose unexpectedly from out the surrounding forest of silvery birches with their high lights and of dark evergreens. A lovely avenue of maples set out by the post forty years ago spread their arms in friendly welcome and from a bluff beyond the house a panorama of wondrous beauty of valley and mountain met the eyes. From the door of the pretty white cottage on the brow of the hill, Mr. Howard extended a gracious welcome to his guests and invited them to enter after an hour spent in friendly converse Mr. Howard entertained his guests with selections from some of his favorite original poems. Only those who see and hear this wonderful old man can appreciate the dignity and beauty of his life. The visitors came away feeling amply repaid for a long drive up the mountain and the benediction of his "Good bye" "God bless you" will linger long while life shall last.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchins of Bridgton have been visiting at L. S. Haley's for the past week.

* Frank Downs of Conway, N. H., was the over Sunday guest at Fred Haley's.

Ernest Dean, who has been spending several weeks in Massachusetts, returned home Tuesday. Charles Sanderson returned with him.

Carroll Haley shot a big buck deer, recently.

Carl Dahl, who has been working in Portland for two years, has completed his work there and will start Wednesday morning for Chicago, Ill., where he has employment.

Mrs. Lowe Haley has been on the sick list the past week.

Almon Haley has been the recent guest at Wm. Irish's at Bartlett.

NORTH FRYEBURG

B. C. Webb and wife and Mrs. Harriet Bemis spent a few days the past week in Portland on business.

William Farrington and family spent one day recently in West Newfield.

May Hastings of Fryeburg visited friends in the place, the past week.

Mrs. Lilla Chandler has been having trouble with her eye. A doctor of Fryeburg is attending her.

Eddie and Lenora Erickson, promoters of high class vaudeville, was presented at Red Men's Hall on Saturday evening with a good attendance.

E. S. Hutchins and son Harry spent the week end in Portland.

Mrs. Orrie Emery and Myrtle Adams visited the Neola Council, D. of P., at Kezar Falls, Tuesday evening.

Several from here attended the movies at Fryeburg, Saturday evening.

The Red Men will have moving pictures in their hall in the near future.

Agnes Chandler spent the day, Sunday, at Silas Smith's.

BOLSTER'S MILLS

Ella Stuart Campbell of Chelsea, Mass., has visited relatives in this place.

Lewis Weston of Richmond has passed a few days with his brother, Fred Weston.

J. Bennett Pike and wife of Bridgton called on Mr. Pike's mother, Mrs. Olivia Pike, Friday.

Allice Gay is visiting her brother, E. L. Gay.

A. E. Clark, J. B. Scribner, George Skillings and wife attended the foot ball game at North Bridgton, Saturday afternoon.

Lizzie Edwards has been at Otisfield Gore doing dressmaking.

Mrs. Charles Grover picked Mayflowers in bloom, October 22.

The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Ethel Skillings. The regular business and readings were given with attention.

Rev. J. B. Coy read his resignation to take effect the last Sunday in November. He has accepted a pastorate in Ellsworth. The prayer service Thursday evening was of interest and profit.

SELLING CAN HANDLES IN MAINE'S GREAT POTATO PATCH

Aroostook County was visited and I got into it by way of Guilford, Milo, Howland, Lincoln, and Mattawamkeag. Dinner was had at Milo. The hotel is a small affair of the Main street, on a hill and run by Walter E. Dillon, who bought a half dozen handles for thirty cents and was pleased. I heard of them later when at Caribou. A traveling man who had shorter bolts could be provided as he "barked" his finger when using the can-made dipper at Dillon's. I told him he was too eager when he drank and that he better look before he grabbed as he might get his hand into a bear trap one of these days and, too, if the bolt was too long he could cut it off. The bolt I meant, not the drinking.

Much clay road and many hills were encountered in getting to South Lincoln. A set of ten dollar claims were bought at a Milo garage. It was some job to fit them on the wheels as they did not appear to be long enough, but the garage man said they were just right. Walter agreed to it and that settled it. Whenever I am tempted to know anything about an auto I find it is not so and am learning to keep still.

We went wrong at Howland and crossed the bridge over the Piscataquis only to return and skirt round a mammoth wood pile and crossed the Kennebec over a long from bridge. This brought us into West Enfield. Not much of a place. Muddy streets and unkempt buildings. No signs of improvement, not even to the extent of buying Economy Handles. By following verbal directions, we got out of it. West Enfield and Montague means the same place. Before the dam was built salmon are said to have gone up the Kennebec. Since the building of the dam none get above it. I didn't stop to fish; the law is on, water too low and there are no fish there anyhow. I had all I could do to keep to the road.

The Lincoln Hotel is all right. We stopped there two nights. Kelley has good accommodations and a big patronage. The garage and house are filled every night. Twenty-five cars were stored there the night before and eighteen the night we got there. How he cares for so many in so small a house is a mystery. You get good attention and the rates are $3.00 and $3.50 per day. We reduced his kick a quarter of a hundred and no kick was made or charge entered on the bill.

At Mattawamkeag we had to decide on which road to take for Houlton. There are three routes: Silver Ridge, Military Road and by the way of Danforth. Walter and Mother chose the first. It was near dinner time and as a precautionary measure I interviewed John Smith at the postoffice where I could get dinner on the road. He said he didn't know, but the people were pretty kind up the way and they wouldn't let us "starve or lay out doors." With this assurance we struck out. We should not have known when we got into Aroostook had there not been a sign: "County Line" by the roadside.

Mother discovered another sign: "Meals for Auto Parties, Willow Brook Farm, 1 mile." We called there and got a good dinner after a short wait interspersed with apologies for lack of bread and the ravenous appetite of potato diggers. They had just finished digging 12 acres that yielded a hundred barrels per acre. Potatoes were bringing $2.50 and $2.75 per barrel. I noticed the lady of the house visited a neighbor and brought back a bundle wrapped in paper. It proved to be bread. Two other travelers from Washburn got dinner there. The price was 75 cents each and was better than some dollar dinners in Bangor.

This particular spot is known as Macwahoc. There are several buildings and one store presided over by Squire R. Ames who has the postoffice. She knows Louie P. Swett, who once operated a sporting camp in Molunkus, four miles out. The camp is still in operation. A dozen or more hunters were there then. I was told, Mr. Swett said it some time ago. This must be a great game country as there are plenty of woods. We saw no animals, not even a squirrel, yet deer are said to be plentiful and occasionally a moose is seen.

We passed through nine miles of woods. Road was good up grade. Several hunting parties were camped near the road. Before one tent we saw two deer suspended heads up from a tree. On our return a week later, the number of hunters had increased. The only live deer we saw were petticoats or were supposed to. They were getting supper over a campfire. There were a half dozen camping parties and women were included in many. Had I time I'd explained the beauties of Economy Handles Aroostook, dead reckoning as it were, as the sun did not shine. Few barns have weather vanes with points of compass marked and I had trouble with the occupants of the front seat as to the direction of our journey. Walter insisted north was in John direction and Mother in another and I didn't know which was right. I held my opinion in reserve. A vane with markings was discovered which confirmed Walter's belief and made him happy, but it upset my calculations. Soon another set of compass-markers was found on a barn that reversed the former one and mixed us all up.

We followed the road and came to Island Falls and speculated as to which house among the many twenty residences was Gov. Milliken's. I concluded the one of Mt. Vernon architecture with a baby carriage on the stoop was his. May be I'm right and possibly wrong. The house looks good enough for any Maine governor with a large family. This is a water and steam power saw-mill town of good size and well kept surroundings. There is manufacturing here judging from saw-dust, shavings and edgings of both hard and soft wood. The river widens a mile into a lake with several islands in it and this is probably how it took its name: Island Falls. It isn't a bad place and I wouldn't object to living there if I could become Governor or collector of customs—as did Carl Milliken and Bill Sewell.

I sold can handles here and was permitted to look over a modern house and find W. H. Craig and get sixty cents. I did the trading with Mrs. M. W. Leslie at a well ordered and neatly kept variety store filled with useful things. Ludlow isn't more than a half dozen miles from Houlton. It is west of it. There is a brook or stream or swamp or a railroad east of it. I mean east of O. A. Stevens' general store where I sold 40 handles and learned he was a college classmate of Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris. Alton escaped by a narrow margin of going to the U. S. Senate when Edwin C. Burleigh was elected the last time. Mr. Stevens hasn't seen Mr. Wheeler for about ten years but says he was a good boy in college. He is now a great lawyer with a big practice.

Houlton is the capital of Aroostook but they hold their courts around in different places so as to accommodate a wide area of potato raisers and politicians. Most of the latter are at the permanent county seat but a few great men yet live in distant towns but no doubt are thinking of coming to Houlton or planning on dividing the county.

We registered at the Snell House and stayed one night. The table girls are slap-footed and the house unkempt. Further comment is unnecessary. More than a hundred autos were parked in Market Square that evening and I was told it was about the usual Saturday night number. There were five or six rows and late comers left their cars on side streets. It resembled "Dollar Day" traffic congestion in Norway.

A big sign "Footwear or Shoe Hospital" nearly opposite the Times office attracted my attention. A protruding nail was removed from my shoe and I could walk more comfortably.

C. H. Fogg of the Times has a nice looking office. I looked in the window and wished I might see the boss but he was not there and the door was locked, though it was early evening. Somehow newspaper publishers are now making so much money they do not keep their offices open in the evening to entertain can-handle-selling tramps. I did not see Mr. Fogg. I peeked round for the Pioneer office but it alluded me. The police were overworked handling the auto traffic and I didn't like to bother them.

In the early hours of Sunday morning I strolled about and sized up the town. "Barnes' Law Office" attracted my attention. It was emblazoned in gold letters on plate glass one story up. At the entrance I read the signs and was much impressed with the size and possible utility of the one bearing the name of "Ira G. Hersey, Attorney-at-law." It is made of slate and of sufficient proportions to mark the last resting place of the distinguished statesman. Chisel out the office hours and therein substitute his bold signatures with date of death and you have it. If this was the original design, it beats the economy of my can-handle to a frazzle! I take off my hat to such farsightedness!

Up stairs there is a wilderness of professional signs of all descriptions. It brought to mind a building I once saw in Pemberton Square, Boston. On a door in big, bold gold letters was "Barnes' Law Office." It was almost as prominent as a bear's hide on the side of a building. It pleased me greatly because professional men are too modest to advertise in newspapers. Should you, however, leave out their name in reporting an important trial you hear from them forthwith and sometimes the language used is not fit to print. I know all about it and presume lawyers here are no different from those in Oxford County.

Houlton probably has a population of 7500. It was 5,985 at the last census. I was told it far exceeds that number now. Some setting it as high as ten thousand. It is a thriving burg anyhow and the home of wild land barons, lumber kings, millionaire potato shippers and statesmen.

The cutest thing seen in art outside the work of the Indians of the stone age is the drinking fountain: a wet-footed lad on a pedestal. I gazed with wonder and admiration on the fitness of the idea. It shows a condition that befalls every boy who wears long-legged boots and gets into the water over the tops of them. It is natural to life. I question the necessity for eight bubblers for humans and no provisions for dogs to drink. It looks well and bears in brass relief the name of the construction company who erected it. It is in a park near a building I suppose to be a public library or something of that sort.

I could not leave town without calling on Charles P. Barnes, Annie and the children. I tried to do it as not to interfere with their attending church but in this failed. We lingered long in their comfortable home and with the children. Lots of Norway friends we talked over. Charles is busy; too much so and with a special session of the Legislature on his hands is liable to be over-worked. Nine years ago I advised him not to leave Oxford County but he did and he must now take the consequences. I don't pity him, not a bit, but have sympathy for his family and the community. I got seventy-five dollars by swapping a check for cash and with what money Walter and I had, started for North Aroostook feeling I would not have to depend entirely on the sale of handles to meet expenses.

Note—next installment tells of a Sunday trip from Houlton to Caribou in search of a hotel. Things seen, heard and guessed at that were out of the usual.
